You have a right to a safe place to learn.

No person shall be subjected to discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, disability, nationality, race or ethnicity or religion.

Your school should have publicized anti-discrimination and anti-harassment policies, including information about how to file a complaint.
